Appendices
MOHCD began participating in department-wide racial equity work in late 2017 and held our first all-staff racial equity meeting in March 2018. An outside consultant was engaged in December 2018 to help guide our process and conduct a departmental Racial Equity Assessment; the resulting report, from May 2019, is based on online surveys and in-person interviews with MOHCD staff. Our first phase of Racial Equity Plan Goals & Objectives were finalized in March/April 2020 in a collaboration between our senior leadership team and Racial Equity Working Group, which consists of a cross section of staff. Since April 2020, the office has been working to embed racial equity into its day-to-day practice and explicitly identify racial equity outcomes within its programs and policies.

It is the ongoing intention of the office to advance our mission and the implementation of programs in a manner that minimizes displacement and increases the agency and economic opportunity of Black and Brown residents within San Francisco. MOHCD recognizes the oppressive history of racial injustice, especially in housing and community services; the structural inequities that remain today; and the trauma those inequities perpetuate.

Through its policies, programs, resource allocation, and practices, MOHCD is committed to working in partnership with communities, organizations and those who have been most harmed by racial inequity—especially Black, Brown, Indigenous and other San Franciscans of color—to protect against displacement, shape where they live and work, create thriving neighborhoods, celebrate diverse cultures, and unlock economic prosperity. We seek to create an agency culture where our practices root racial equity as a fundamental consideration in every aspect of our work, and MOHCD staff at all levels reflect the people we serve.
ABOUT MOHCD

DEPARTMENT BACKGROUND

NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES: 118
FY20-21 BUDGET: $175M

MOHCD, since its creation under Mayor Feinstein, has had addressing the needs of low-income and marginalized San Franciscans as its core mission. In 2005, under the leadership of Mayor Newsom, we started the Communities of Opportunity program, which explicitly tried to address racial disparities in San Francisco. The HOPE SF program has been a reparations initiative since its beginnings in 2008. We continue to serve vulnerable populations as the core of what we do every day. Please refer to Appendices A and B for more information on vulnerable populations served by MOHCD.

CURRENT WORKFORCE DEMOGRAPHIC DATA

Note: The Office of Racial Equity (ORE) worked with the SF Controller and Department of Human Resources (DHR) to produce a report pursuant to its ordinance; this report was released on March 10, 2020 to Mayor London Breed and the SF Board of Supervisors. As a follow-up to the Phase I report publication, ORE continues to work with DHR, the Office of the Controller and City Departments on producing Phase II analysis. The Phase II report will provide a more granular review of the intersection of department-specific employment decisions and race as well as gender for hiring, promotions, professional development, terminations, and compensation decisions for all City employees.

Demographic data pending direction from ORE/DHR
RESULTS FROM DEPARTMENT ASSESSMENT AND EMPLOYEE SURVEY

Our Racial Equity Organizational Assessment Report, prepared by an outside consultant in May 2019, was based on a staff survey that reflected a snapshot of time. The consultant team conducted training evaluations and observations, and interviewed key stakeholders recommended by the internal Racial Equity Working Group. The consultants assessed organizational culture from various vantage points and measured attitudes, beliefs, and experiences. As well, they took an inventory of how various processes and policies are experienced differently by staff. Their resulting summary was organized into 12 themes, described below. The assessment and employee survey clearly showed that at the time of the survey, MOHCD staff held a variance of understanding, motivation, experience in, and exposure to racial equity concepts and knowledge as they are applied within the public sector in San Francisco. A considerable amount of time and attention has been given to MOHCD’s racial equity work since this initial employee survey and MOHCD is eager to conduct a follow-up survey to measure employee’s current racial equity assessment of MOHCD.
THEMES FROM DEPARTMENT ASSESSMENT AND EMPLOYEE SURVEY

THEME 01: PRIDE IN THE WORK
The consultant team found a strong sense of pride in the work MOHCD is doing. Specifically, MOHCD staff take great pride in being part of a department that is attempting to solve large, complicated questions around resources and housing in the San Francisco Bay Area, a region well known for grappling with various aspects of housing equity, access, and availability.

THEME 02: HIGH TEAM MORALE
The consultant team reported that team morale in the Community Development and Homeownership and Below Market Rate (HBMR) divisions is quite high. Individuals on these teams feel that racial equity conversations happen more often among themselves. They also perceived that Community Development and HBMR staff are actively and explicitly examining how to best define frameworks on racial equity at MOHCD.

THEME 03: APPRECIATION OF LEADERSHIP’S WILLINGNESS TO ENGAGE IN RACIAL EQUITY WORK
The consultant team noted an evident sense of appreciation that MOHCD’s leadership is willing to engage in racial equity work. While there might have been discomfort around the details and content of the conversations on racial equity, some employees felt positively about MOHCD leadership putting resources towards this work.

THEME 04: STAFF FEEL AND UNDERSTAND THE GRAVITY OF “THIS WORK”
The consultant team sensed strongly that MOHCD staff were taking their interviews seriously and prioritizing participation. The consultant team interviewed every person on the Working Group’s stakeholder list, despite their hectic work schedules. The high participation rate of the survey is an indication of willingness to engage as well as an indicator of an appetite to engage with this work. While this theme is nuanced by the cautious sentiment around racial equity work, as well as the uncertainty of the project’s potential outcomes, the consultant team saw this aspect as a positive, motivating circumstance and factor of influence for this initiative moving forward.
THEME 05: PERCEPTION OF MOHCD LEADERSHIP COMMITMENT TO AND/OR ADVOCACY FOR RACIAL EQUITY
Qualitative data in the survey indicated the feeling that senior management is committed, yet uncomfortable with racial equity work. At the time, the perception of many staff interviewed was that MOHCD leadership did not necessarily feel emboldened or prepared to clearly advocate for racial equity. Staff felt that agency leadership was “not strong on the language of [racial equity].” Even when and where leadership exhibited strength in understanding the practices that advance racial equity, they lacked knowledge on how to operationalize these equitable practices. Although individuals considered to be in leadership roles were able to articulate the concept of equity, staff voiced concerns over the genuineness and authenticity of leadership’s commitment to racial equity as well as concerns over how racial equity actually plays out at MOHCD.

THEME 06: INCONSISTENCIES BETWEEN MANAGEMENT’S PERCEPTION OF THIS WORK AND THE EXPERIENCE OF NON-MANAGEMENT
Overall, interviews reflected that individuals in management roles feel they are very clear in their understanding of racial equity work, but unsure about the explicit details and tangible, concrete strategies of how to operationalize racial equity. In contrast to this, non-management interviewees did not feel that management had clear understanding of racial equity.

THEME 07: THE VARIANCE OF THE POC EXPERIENCE AT MOHCD
The consultant team identified that participants’ “buy in” to racial equity initiatives depends on their perceptions of how effective this work can and will be. There was a sense of fear that if the department digs into this work, it could blow up and not help at all. Many staff implied or spoke directly about tensions between Black and Asian staff. Some indicated that this tension was possibility both an outcome and an informant of MOHCD’s work. Some staff perceive that Asian and Latinx communities in the city receive more resources than Black communities. The consultant noted presence of a perception that the differences in services between those communities parallel differences in the experiences of employees.

THEME 08: QUESTIONS & UNCERTAINTY ABOUT THE ROLE OF DATA
The consultant team found that there were a lot of questions and concerns about the usage of data. These include:

- The distribution of resources.
- Difference in various forms of data.
- Questions on how to collect data from our diverse communities that have ‘data collection fatigue.’
- The perception that while perhaps data is a “tool” to address institutional racism in the workplace, participants do not feel they have the tools to address racial equity.

THEME 09: LACK OF TRANSPARENCY ABOUT PROFESSIONAL MOBILITY FOR POC
The consultant explored whether, and to what extent, transparency exists around professional mobility and promotion at MOHCD. They found evidence that employee retention at MOHCD is strong and the survey referenced the perception that a significant number of staff have been promoted. However, respondents noted a lack of transparency and professional mobility within the agency. Specifically, 25% of survey participants stated that they do not feel that opportunities for promotion are equitable, accessible to everyone regardless of race or ethnicity. The consultant also noted that staff feel that professional development and mentorship opportunities are lacking.
THEME 10: HEAVY POC VOICE, YET VARIANCE OF GROUP IDENTITY, AND THE PERCEPTION OF WHAT ROLE IDENTITY PLAYS

The consultant was struck by how staff group themselves and suggests that this dynamic makes a statement about the workplace culture. There is a clear affinity among Black employees, but still conflict between interpretations of what being a person of color at MOHCD means. There is a distinction between personal and professional spheres of identity, and the consultant pointed out that some staff saw race as a personal conversation instead of a professional one. This dynamic may indicate that there is a lack of understanding of how race as a concept operates institutionally. In addition, staff who explicitly brought their race, and/or race in general, into discussions at work may have experienced some trauma.

THEME 11: A DIVIDE BETWEEN HOUSING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

The inter-agency divide between the Housing and Community Development and HBMR programmatic areas was mentioned by more than half of interview participants, as well as in a number of qualitative survey responses. The consultant documented a sense that the Housing division was segregated, “more white,” and generally less open to conversations on racial equity. The consultant also noted that staff are well aware that educational and qualification requirements for employment differ between the two areas, and see this as a barrier to employment access, diversification, and racial and social inclusion.

THEME 12: ATTITUDES AND OPINIONS REGARDING PREVIOUS RACIAL EQUITY TRAININGS

The consultant found that MOHCD staff felt that racial equity trainings are needed and positive, but that MOHCD needs to create more space for framing and processing these trainings. There was a general lack of clear connections to racial equity initiatives and how these trainings explicitly connect to the concrete, tangible daily work of individual roles and responsibilities, as well as to the overarching mission of MOHCD.

The work and findings of this assessment underscore that MOHCD is an agency with incredible talent, institutional legacy and leadership, and significant community presence and responsibility. MOHCD is deeply committed to racial equity: in housing and community development; in our relationships with local community partner organizations and other public sector agencies; and most certainly, with the multiple, intersecting vulnerable communities we serve across the city of San Francisco. Staff at all levels of MOHCD are curious, motivated, and ready to deepen their knowledge of key concepts to operationalize racial equity across all program areas. This will deepen our impact in the community, and improve racial equity and inclusion internally, thereby attracting top diverse talent to join our team. MOHCD’s Phase I Racial Equity Action Plan addresses some of the themes raised in the 2019 staff survey by operationalizing strategies for staff recruitment, development, and retention. It is our plan to regularly survey staff to evaluate the following actions.
1. HIRING AND RECRUITMENT

DEPARTMENT GOAL: MOHCD shall develop and implement recruitment strategies in an effort to expand the racial and ethnic diversity of its applicant pools such that MOHCD staff, at all levels, is diverse and representative of the communities we serve.

Identify, Attract, Invest In and Retain a Diverse City Workforce.

Racial homogeneity within hiring and recruiting networks reproduce historical inequities in access to family-sustaining, living wage jobs. Therefore, cultivating an inclusive workforce requires intentional efforts in and with diverse, under-represented and underserved communities. MOHCD recognizes the differences in racial makeup between divisions within the department. We also observe that incumbents in middle management roles are less diverse than incumbents in line staff or senior leadership roles.

Rather than passively waiting for Black and Brown candidates and other people of color to apply, MOHCD will actively seek these individuals out. This includes assessing the most basic barriers to reaching the City’s applicant pool, and developing a clear, intentional outreach strategy. Further, partnering creatively within non-traditional outlets, community-based organizations, and BIPOC professional networks will cultivate a rich pool of diverse candidates.

Indicators: # of Black and Brown interns/fellows, increases annually or meets department needs/capacity

Timeline: Fall 2020

MOHCD new hires will receive information and materials on efforts to operationalize racial equity in our work.

Lead: Karen Henderson
2. RETENTION AND PROMOTION

DEPARTMENT GOAL: MOHCD shall develop and implement staff retention and promotion strategies such that MOHCD staff, at all levels, is diverse and representative of the communities we serve.

Our Workforce Is Our Largest Asset.

Retaining a strong workforce means supporting our employees holistically to ensure that they are affirmed, in and out of the office. A competitive salary, inclusive benefits, and opportunities for advancement ensure that our workforce can sustain themselves and their immediate family, and oftentimes, due to the wealth gap and the effects of systemic racism, their extended families and friends. A clear and intentional path to promotion addresses barriers to upward mobility that systemically face underrepresented employees.

Our employee feedback makes clear that MOHCD has work to do in this area, as employees are not always fully aware of how to pursue professional development opportunities or how promotion works at MOHCD and within the civil service context in general. We have increased transparency and provided additional tools and trainings and will continue to do so. Lastly, acknowledging and responding to any potential inequitable impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on frontline City workers will be essential.
2.1 WORKER PROTECTIONS

Ensure stronger protections for workers of color given anticipated COVID-19 related deployment budget shortfalls, hiring freezes, layoffs, and furloughs.

ACTION 2.1.1
Track deployment and the given functions and demographics of all DSW workers (frontline work and remote work) deployed throughout the period.

Implementation: Continue to regularly inform staff of the resources available.

Lead: Karen Henderson

2.2 LIVING WAGES

Ensure salaries and benefits allow for a dignified livelihood, especially for women and people of color.

ACTION 2.2.1

2.3 PROMOTIONAL PATHWAYS

Create paths to promotion that are transparent and work to advance equity.

ACTION 2.3.1
Strengthen existing practice of identifying and communicating opportunities for career advancement for existing employees, both within MOHCD divisions and outside of the City.

Indicators: Increase in knowledge about advancement opportunities

Timeline: 2021

Implementation: Create a MOHCD Career Pathways tool kit that articulates the skills necessary for promotion within MOHCD divisions. This tool kit will identify how staff can be competitive for higher level classifications within a civil service environment and how managers can serve as coaches and cheerleaders in promoting staff success in career advancement. Tool kit will have a racial equity lens, acknowledging barriers and roadblocks often encountered by underrepresented groups.

Train supervisors on how to be supportive of staff career advancement, both within and outside MOHCD.

Lead: Benjamin McCloskey
3. DISCIPLINE AND SEPARATION

DEPARTMENT GOAL: MOHCD will follow the advice of DHR in all circumstances of discipline and separation, regardless of race or job level of the employee.

The Path to Termination is Filled with Bias.

Managerial practices that surround employee evaluation, monitoring, warning, suspensions, and termination must be applied equally. Employees of color, especially Black and Latinx employees, receive extra scrutiny from supervisors leading to poor performance reviews, missed promotion opportunities, and, oftentimes, termination. This additional scrutiny is a result of a biased feedback loop in which Black and Latinx employees are often seen as less skilled because of consistent or prolonged unemployment. This cycle must be stopped.

Higher rates of corrective action and discipline negatively impact a department’s ability to successfully recruit, retain, and engage employees of color, specifically Black and Latinx employees. Thus, supervisors should be aware of their own biases, evaluations and reviews must be standardized, and, most importantly, managers should always center the needs of their employees. Job expectations should be reasonable, clear, and gladly supplemented with opportunities for upskilling.

3.1 DISCIPLINARY PROTOCOLS

Create a clear, equitable, and accountable protocol for disciplinary actions.

Train supervisors on bias and equitable and compassionate discipline and separation.

Indicators: # of trainings completed annually

Timeline: 2022

Implementation: This should be a City-wide effort integrated into the 24-Plus program.

Lead: Karen Henderson

ACTION 3.1.2
Conduct analysis of MOHCD separations over the last 2-3 years to determine if there are any observable racial inequities.

Indicators: To be determined once analysis is completed

Timeline: Early 2021

Implementation: Research former staff files and compile data.

Lead: Karen Henderson

3.2 UNDERSTAND SEPARATION

Understand why people leave MOHCD.

ACTION 3.2.1
Conduct exit interviews with all separating staff and share results with Senior Leadership Team.

Indicators: # of exit interviews conducted

Timeline: 2021

Implementation: Explore best practices for exit interviews; determine who should conduct and create annual data report for Senior Leadership Team.

ACTION 3.2.2
Analyze data from MOHCD exit interviews to identify patterns in racial inequities.

Indicators: Annual exit interview analysis

Timeline: 2021 and ongoing

Implementation: Identify areas in exit interview data for further research and policy action where appropriate.

Lead: Senior Leadership Team
4. DIVERSE AND EQUITABLE LEADERSHIP

DEPARTMENT GOAL: MOHCD shall develop and implement staff recruitment and retention strategies such that MOHCD staff, at all levels, is diverse and representative of the communities we serve. MOHCD is especially interested in focusing on increasing diversity in middle management roles.

An Equitable Workplace Starts with Diverse Leadership.

Fostering an organizational culture of inclusion and belonging means seeing oneself in every aspect of the workplace. When white men make up 85% of all senior executive and board members in America, it is difficult to imagine how women and people of color can see themselves in a leadership position. In general, a department’s leadership determines multiple aspects of the workforce, who gets hired, where the money goes, what projects are greenlit.

Thus, it is more likely that a diverse leadership that carries shared values with their staff, will better uplift the staff. In fact, all employees, both white and employees of color, benefit from a people of color-led department. A diverse leadership will be better connected with the community, thus being able to create far more robust and innovative ways to support them. Within MOHCD, we observe that incumbents in middle management roles are less diverse than incumbents in line staff or senior leadership roles.

4.1 LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Commit to developing a diverse and equitable leadership that will foster a culture of inclusion and belonging.

ACTION 4.1.1

Adhere to a hiring and recruitment policy that generally aligns with the citywide racial equity framework and the departmental RE Action Plan.

Indicators: % increase in diverse leadership

Timeline: Ongoing

Implementation: Continue our ongoing work in this area, including participation in the Citywide recruitment workgroup convened by DHR.

Lead: Eric Shaw + Karen Henderson

Indicators: # of training & development completed by leadership per quarter

Timeline: 2021

Implementation: Solicit suggestions from MOHCD managers and other Department Personnel Officers and DHR.

Lead: Karen Henderson

ACTION 4.1.3

Implement a simple ongoing process to submit anonymous input to senior leadership. Develop a plan to respond to such input.

Indicators: % of staff that are aware of and use the process

Timeline: 2021

Implementation: Partner with Senior Leadership Team to brainstorm and implement. Explore technological (ie web form) and personal connection options.

Lead: Eric Shaw + Karen Henderson

ACTION 4.1.4

Identify barriers to promotion from line staff to middle management and work to mitigate them.

Indicators: % of internal staff promoted to middle management

Timeline: 2021

Implementation: Create a matrix of qualifications needed for middle management positions across divisions.

Lead: Karen Henderson
5. MOBILITY & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

DEPARTMENT GOAL: MOHCD staff will be able to identify their professional goals and will feel supported in achieving them.

Our City workforce should center the needs of our employees. In order to do that, it is important to recognize having both the hard and soft skills needed to perform certain tasks is a form of privilege. It is equally important to realize that employees of color are more likely to repeatedly prove their capabilities rather than be evaluated by their expected potential.1

By intentionally investing in the specific professional development of each staff, the department can uplift an employee’s journey to developing new skills rather than scrutinizing for a lack of skills.

In essence, professional development through mentorship, training, and workshops creates an internal pipeline retaining employees who will one day fill leadership positions. Our employee feedback makes clear that MOHCD has work to do in this area, as employees do not understand professional development opportunities or how promotion works within the civil service context. We have provided and will continue to provide additional tools and trainings.

5.1 DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Offer professional and skill development opportunities that center individual goals first, then organizational needs.

ACTION 5.1.1

Bring focus to professional development as part of annual performance planning for all levels of staff.

Indicators: # of available professional development opportunities, # of completed trainings
Timeline: Ongoing
Implementation: Distributed instructions regarding professional development goals to all MOHCD staff week of November 16, 2020. All performance plans require both a racial equity operational goal and a professional development goal.

ACTION 5.1.2

Clearly articulate process for staff to access professional development opportunities. Make clear processes and protocols for reimbursement, stipends, and payments.

Indicators: # of attended, external conferences
Timeline: Ongoing
Implementation: Distributed training document to all staff week of November 16, 2020. Will follow up to assess effectiveness and additional questions.
Lead: Benjamin McCloskey + all MOHCD managers

5.3 CENTER STAFF
In order to perform and excel at their jobs, ensure that staff needs are centered and timely met.

ACTION 5.3.1
Create a process where staff can submit accommodation requests to the department’s administration. The overall timeline process should be transparent and easily accessible.

Indicators: Process developed; % of staff aware of accommodation process

Timeline: 2021

Implementation: Determine definition of "accomodation."

Lead: Karen Henderson

ACTION 5.3.2
Assess whether staff needs outside of the workplace are addressed. Understand that non-work-related needs contribute to overall work quality.

Indicators: Staff Survey

Timeline: 2021

Implementation: Work with DHR to create or improve resource directory for non-work-related staff needs.

Lead: Karen Henderson
6. ORGANIZATIONAL CULTURE OF INCLUSION AND BELONGING

DEPARTMENT GOAL: In order to consistently focus on addressing racial inequities, MOHCD shall integrate a racial equity framework into all facets of its culture, practices, and work plans, and work to ensure that all staff feel that their contributions are integral to MOHCD’s mission, that their identities and experiences are celebrated, and that their voices are heard and considered.

Growing a Diverse Workforce is Just the First Step.

Employees must feel welcomed and included at every stage of their employment. Racial homogeneity is not only found in hiring and recruiting, it permeates throughout organizational culture, policies, and procedures. It also can take form as coded, traditional standards, such as “professionalism,” that ultimately center whiteness. This factor takes an immense mental health toll on underrepresented employees who do not feel like they belong.

Departments must actively work to create a culture of inclusion and commit to ongoing assessment to uncover gaps in policies and procedures that create a culture of othering. Change in organizational culture starts and continues with the needs of the employee. These needs are discovered by fostering intentional relationships with underrepresented employees, specifically women, Trans employees, Black employees, Indigenous employees, employees of color, and employees living with disabilities.

DEPARTMENT GOAL: Advisory boards that support MOHCD (Citizen’s Committee on Community Development and SOMA/Central SOMA Advisory Board) will not only serve their identified purpose, but will also exist as safe spaces of racial reconciliation and healing.

For many departments, an equitable and diverse leadership does not stop with senior leadership positions. Decisions are also being made in boards and commissions. These seats must represent the community that the department serves. Bylaws containing policies and language that perpetuate implicit bias must be revised. Seats must be accessible and available to employees of color. Policies and budget decisions made by these advisory bodies must be assessed through a racial equity lens.

APPENDIX A

VULNERABLE POPULATIONS SERVED

MOHCD serves the following communities of color:
- Black or African-American
- East Asian
- Filipino/a/x
- Indigenous, Native American or American Indian
- Latino/a/x or Hispanic
- Middle Eastern or North African
- Pacific Islander/Native Hawaiian
- South Asian/Indian
- Southeast Asian

When developing a Theory of Change for our most recent Consolidated Plan, MOHCD intentionally prioritized populations that need the most support for housing and supportive services. The following target populations were identified:

Extremely and Very Low-Income Households
Extremely low-income households are defined as households whose incomes are below 30% of the Area Median (AMI) Income. Very low-income households are those whose incomes are below 50% of AMI. Roughly one-third of all San Franciscans qualify as extremely or very low-income.

Households with Barriers to Access to Opportunities
Primary barriers to opportunities include limited English proficiency, low digital access or literacy, low educational attainment, criminal record, and immigration status.

Households at Risk of Displacement
San Francisco’s increasing income inequality and housing and business costs have been linked to changes in the city’s socio-economic composition and displacement of communities of color and the businesses and organizations that serve them and low-income households.

Households Experiencing a Legacy of Exclusion
MOHCD has defined households experiencing a legacy of exclusion as households with Black/African-American and Native American members: descendants of slavery and survivors of genocide. At MOHCD we recognize the oppressive and exploitative history of racial injustice, as well as the present-day structural inequities that exist in the United States, the greater Bay Area, and San Francisco.

Households Destabilized by Systemic Trauma
An individual who survives harmful or life-threatening circumstances may experience trauma: lasting adverse effects on their well-being and ability to function. MOHCD recognizes that systemic trauma can be caused by many institutional systems and practices such as institutional racism; exclusionary policies in housing, employment, education and health; discrimination due to gender, sex, or age; intergenerational poverty; and biased criminal justice.

MOHCD recognizes the intersectionality of these populations with the BIPOC, especially Black and Brown, people in San Francisco. Households that are most at risk of displacement are likely to be extremely low-income, with multiple barriers to opportunities, experiencing a legacy of exclusion and destabilization by systemic trauma.

VULNERABLE POPULATIONS ENGAGEMENT ASSESSMENT

MOHCD regularly seeks input from our target communities on programs and services and changing needs of the most vulnerable. The most recent community engagement process was conducted over more than 18 months, from December 2018-June 2020. As part of the assessment, MOHCD gathered disaggregated racial population categories to inform decisions, guide resource allocation, and evaluate the effectiveness of our programs. Although federal and state program reporting requires aggregate racial/ethnic population descriptors, disaggregated data provides MOHCD with more granular detail and enables us to better identify specific vulnerable populations within racial/ethnic groups.

Engagement methods included:
- 10 neighborhood forums – approximately 700 participants
- 40 focus groups – approximately 750 participants
- Online/paper survey – nearly 2,500 respondents

Forums took place in the following neighborhoods: Bayview Hunters Point, Castro, Chinatown, Excelsior and OMI, Mission, South of Market, Sunset, Tenderloin, Visitacion Valley, and the Western Addition. Meeting announcements and materials were translated, and interpretation during meetings was provided.

Focus groups were convened with the following communities: African American, Cambodian, Latino, Samoan, and Vietnamese service providers and advocates; HIV community; HOPE SF Hunters View, Alice Griffith, Potrero Hill and Sunnydale residents; Human Services Network; LGBTQ+ service providers and advocates; unhoused residents (Local Homeless Coordinating Board); RAD residents – 16 buildings; San Francisco Immigrant Legal & Education Network members; seniors and persons with disabilities (Long Term Care Coordinating Council and Mayor’s Disability Council).

Among the concerns identified during community engagement. San Francisco stakeholders were most frequently concerned about displacement, increasing housing prices, the overall cleanliness and safety of their neighborhoods, and transit accessibility. Participants in MOHCD’s community engagement identified that services to support self-sufficiency and stability are as important as the need for housing itself. Many stakeholders expressed a prominent need for culturally-inclusive and culturally-specific services, especially for racial groups experiencing chronic disparities as well as the LGBTQ+ community. Participants expressed a need for greater awareness of, navigation of, and access to available services, especially for health and housing services. Stakeholders expressed a desire for more inclusive and relaxed standards around affordable housing eligibility. Many community members voiced the need for more opportunities to provide input on the City’s housing eligibility policies as well as participate in the development of affordable housing programs. Stakeholders asked for more streamlined services, improved inter-agency collaboration, and stronger cross-agency communication to support the delivery of both housing and supportive services.
